Express Information Systems Honored by Goodwill

Texas-based business software solutions firm to receive "Prestigious Partner" award

- Express Information Systems has provided service for Goodwill since 1996
- Recognition is presented to organizations that positively impact Goodwill and its mission
- Award ceremony to be held on February 18, 2011 at Pearl Stables in San Antonio, TX

February 11, 2011 – (San Antonio, TX) - Express Information Systems (EIS), a San Antonio, TX-based business software solutions provider, announced today that Goodwill Industries of San Antonio has recognized it as a "Prestigious Partner."

The award recognizes organizations that have successfully served Goodwill and its mission to help change lives through the power of work. Senior Leaders at Goodwill nominate candidates and each nominee is reviewed based on several factors – the ability to partner, the impact to Goodwill and the people it serves and the sustainability of the outcomes generated.

"Express Information Systems is a best-in-class partner for Goodwill in multiple areas of our organization, whether linking our registers to our accounting systems, helping us to move to paperless functions, to the implementation of a contact management system. Their commitment to our journey to world-class performance excellence allows us to create a business and social return on investment that is unparalleled," says Bob Dugas, president/CEO of Goodwill Industries of San Antonio.

Express Information Systems' partnership with Goodwill began in 1996, and over the past 15 years, Goodwill has been able to control costs in its Accounting, Payroll, Human Resources and Marketing departments by using smart technology and streamlining processes provided by Express Information Systems.

"Our team is humbled by this recognition," says Express Information Systems CEO, Iris Schimke. "Since 1996, EIS has been focused on providing customized software solutions to support Goodwill. This award is shared by the EIS family and the selfless Goodwill team members who aid members of the community in need."

Express Information Systems will receive its "Prestigious Partner" award on February 18 during a ceremony presented by Goodwill.
